Organize Safety Group Here

A Randall County Traffic Safety Committee was organized last Wednesday morning to cooperate in a statewide drive to cut the number of deaths on highways of the state by at least 10 per cent.

The committee was organized following a radio address by Gov. Price Daniel, in which he requested the formation of county committees and called for cooperation of all the citizens of Texas.

Highway Patrolman Gilbert Ray was elected chairman of the committee, but he has announced that he must resign because his election is contrary to Department of Public Safety policy. No successor has been elected.

Vice chairman of the committee is Sheriff L. S. Johnston and Criminal Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair is secretary.

In a discussion of ways to make the highways of the county more safe, Ray said that the accident and death rate in Randall County is fairly favorable so far this year. He said there has been one death and 37 accidents with 10 injuries this year. He cited 16 deaths in 1955, nine in 1956 and seven in 1957.

Chamber of Commerce manager Roland Black asked Ray for dangerous locations this year. Ray said the accidents are centered around centers of population, and are showing up on Highway 60 just north of Canyon, especially at the VFW Road turnoff. This year there have been three accidents on Highway 87 south, one from a driver turning in front of a school bus and two that were one-car turnovers.

Lair said that the governor had asked for efforts to reduce the number of accidents caused by driving while intoxicated, and especially the practice common in some counties of reducing a DWI charge to a lesser charge.

"We haven't done that since I've been in office," Lair said. He said that no person charged with DWI has been acquitted in court, either.

"The sentence given DWI in this court is more severe than in many counties, but we could consider stiffer penalties," Lair said. "I don't have much patience with drunk driving boys, and we might consider more jail time. We have a reputation for stiff sentences, though."

Ray said the county's reputation is directly responsible for cutting the number of drunk drivers through the county. He said that at one time, there were 16 or 18 drunk drivers arrested each weekend. "It's been more than a month since I've picked up one," he said.

Sheriff Johnston commended the highway department for its efforts in making the highways safer, especially for the work the maintenance men did during the snow and ice storms this winter. "They've done the best job this year that I've ever seen in the Panhandle," the sheriff said.

Women Hold Fellowship Day

The United Church Women of Canyon will hold their annual May Fellowship Day program in the First Methodist Church on Friday. The business session begins at 11:15 a. m. in the church parlor. A covered dish salad and dessert luncheon will be held at 12 noon in the Fellowship Hall.

A panel discussion entitled "A Place To Live" will be the program which begins at 1 p. m. in the sanctuary of the church. The panel will be moderated by Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick. Panel members are Mrs. Ples Harper, Mrs. Bill Cherry and Mrs. Michael Morris.

The planning committee for the May Fellowship Day program are Mrs. Glenn Gardner, chairman, Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. Harry Ball, Mrs. Douglas Marshall, and Mrs. Gladys Marshall, president of the Canyon UCW.

maintenance foreman here, said that the biggest problem he and his men have is slowing drivers down while they are out working on the highways. He also said that another big problem is cleaning beer cans and whiskey bottles from the right of way.

"It's terrible," he said.

V. J. McGee, district highway administration engineer, said it costs $91 per mile per year to keep the cans and bottles picked up.

Ray told the group that driver education is a great help in cutting accidents. He said that figures kept on violations and accidents show that people who have had the training are involved in fewer accidents than those who have not had it.

School Supt. Joe A. Gibson said that Canyon High can give driver education to only 10 students per semester because of the behind-the-wheel training required.

Lair said one way to help reduce the accident rate over the state would be to have more consistency from county to county for speeding and DWI penalties. We need an educational program to let the people know they are hurting themselves when they allow a person proven guilty of speeding or DWI to go free after a jury trial, Lair said.

Ray mentioned that special legislation in California gives no bail, no suspended sentences, no probation and mandatory jail sentences for DWI convictions. He said that in New York, the first conviction for speeding carries a 30-day suspension of licenses, the second at six months, and the third a one-year suspension.

In Texas it takes a "stack" of violations to cause a suspension, Ray said. "Our laws could be stiffer and cause a stiffer deterrent," he said.

Black said that an education program is needed to get drivers to pay more attention to signs. Sheriff Johnston said that so-called minor violations are minor only when they do not cause accidents. Running a stop sign is minor unless it causes a wreck. "We have had several deaths in the past few years for that reason alone," the sheriff said.

Following the formation of the committee, Ray called for Randall County to become the safest county in Texas.

Attending the meeting held in the county judge's office were Judge Roy Joe Stevens, Ray, Lair, Sheriff Johnston, Black, Morgan, McGee, Gibson, W. W. Camp and A. L. Pruett.

Little Leaguers Meeting Tonight

Everyone interested in the Randall County Little League program is invited to a membership meeting tonight.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the West Texas State Fieldhouse, according to O. W. Parker, league president.

Bible Chair Sets Fellowship Meet

Dr. John C. Stevens, assistant president of Abilene Christian College, will speak to approximately 700 persons expected Tuesday for the annual fellowship meeting at the Church of Christ Bible Chair at West Texas State College.

The fellowship was started three years ago to interest the Panhandle's Church of Christ members in the Bible Chair work of that church at WT. More than 600 attended the meeting last year.

Douglass Rohre, director of the chair, said that invitations had been sent to 80 congregations of the area, and that 700 are expected. The meeting opens with dinner in the college cafeteria at 6:30 p. m.

Following the dinner, the program will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Administration Building auditorium. WT President James P. Cornette will welcome visitors and Dr. Stevens will speak on "Christian Education Through the Medium of a Bible Chair."

Dr. Stevens has been assistant president of ACC since 1956, and has been a member of the faculty since 1948. He has been assistant professor of history, dean of men, and dean of students. He holds the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Arkansas.

County Okays Getting Bids for Fire Equipment for Precinct 2

Firefighting equipment for the Umbarger area may be purchased by Randall County, according to action taken Monday by the commissioners court.

The court authorized advertisement for bids for purchasing a 500-gallon tank with pump and hose to be on a trailer, and a 1000-gallon water tank on skids. Payment for the equipment will come from Precinct 2 funds, according to Precinct 2 Commissioner Clarence Beckman.

Beckman told the court that the men of Umbarger are organizing a volunteer fire department to use the equipment, and will be available for call anywhere in the county. He said he believed that the equipment based in Umbarger would relieve the strain on the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department and would be of great help in case of fires in Umbarger or at Buffalo Lake.

The trailer would be kept ready at Umbarger, and any pickup with a trailer hitch could pull it to the fire, Beckman said.

The specifications call for the tank-trailer to be able to pump

Court Authorizes Remodel Estimates

The Randall County Commissioners court authorized County Auditor E. T. Cummings to obtain cost estimates for renovating the district courtroom and air conditioning the courthouse.

The court met with the new grand jury Monday afternoon, and presumably discussed the move. The January term grand jury, which had its final meeting Saturday, recommended the changes. Last year, the commissioners court obtained estimates for renovating the district courtroom with an idea of lowering the ceiling. They told Cummings to see if a less expensive plan could be found.

The renovation of the courtroom is aimed mostly at improving acoustics. Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan has complained for the past two years that the bad acoustics in the courtroom make it difficult to try cases, especially when spectators are present.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Set for Monday

Player tryouts for places on the four teams of the Randall County Babe Ruth League will be held beginning at 5 p. m. Monday at the Elementary School, League President Dr. C. C. Callarman has announced.

The members of the teams will be selected the following Monday with the Player Agents, Bill Sternberg and Bob Bellah, in charge. Managers of the four teams, and their team names, are George Ritter, Giants; Borden Price, Cardinals; Burl Brim, Pirates; and Chet Reynolds, White Sox.

Boys trying out for the teams will be observed by the managers during the tryouts.

New Grand Jury Begins Session

Ten of the 12 members of the May term Randall County Grand Jury have never served on a grand jury before, Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan announced Monday following the impaneling of the group.

Members of the grand jury are: Jozach Byrd, Canyon, foreman; D. K. McGee, Rt. 1, Happy; Jack E. Baker, Friend Cook, Sherman G. Harriman, Benard J. Klemm, Fred W. Beall, Ralph V. Funderburk, Robert V. Heard and Gene Horn, all of Amarillo; Edd Reynolds, Rt. 2, Canyon; and Cecil Sims, Canyon. Byrd and McGee have had previous grand jury experience.

Dinner Set Tuesday Night To Honor Canyon Public School Employees

Dr. Joseph A. Hill, president emeritus of West Texas State College, will be guest speaker for a dinner honoring Canyon public school employees. The Service Award dinner is planned as a method for patrons of the school to honor their teachers and other employees.

The dinner is scheduled for 7 p. m. Tuesday in the Elementary School cafeteria. Tickets may be obtained from the chamber of commerce or the principals of the three schools. They are $1.50 each.

All patrons of the school system are invited to the dinner, according to Supt. Joe Gibson. In addition to honoring all employees, those with 10 or more years of service will be given service pins.

Dr. Hill's speech will be on the service that teachers and school personnel perform in the community.

College Arts Festival Features BIT Production of Shakespeare Play

The play that made the terms "Shylock" and "pound of flesh" universally accepted terminology of money-lenders will be a top feature of the annual Festival of the Arts at West Texas State College.

Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" will open in the Branding Iron Theatre Monday at 8:15 p. m. for a six-night run. Directed by William A. Moore and Margaret Echols Moore, the comedy is the first Shakespearean production to be given here since 1950. Robert L. Antrim is technical director.

All seats each night will be reserved, and reservations may be made through the WT speech department, or by calling OL5-3781. Admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for high school students and children.

Utilizing the drollery and lovers-in-disguise techniques so associated with Shakespeare's productions, the BIT production will turn to a semi-farceful emphasis followed by the famed Max Reinhardt shows.

The five-act show presents one of Shakespeare's most famous plots of a story-within-a-story, with "all lovers on each other's arms" at the end, the unfaithful husbands being taught a lesson by wives in disguise.

Opening the week-long Festival of the Arts at West Texas State College Friday will be a banquet featuring three speakers from the fine arts fields of speech, music and art.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the college cafeteria, and reservations may be made through any one of the three sponsoring departments at West Texas State. They should be made before Friday.

Presiding will be Dr. A. Kirk Knott, chairman of WT's humanities division. Invocation will be given by Bob Wear, minister of the Canyon Church of Christ. Special music will be by the WT Woodwind Trio, directed by David L. Kaplan, assistant professor of music.

First speaker will be Mrs. Oma Link Rowley, president of the Southwest Theatre Conference and managing director of the Amarillo Little Theatre. Her talk will be on "The Interrelation of the Arts."

Second speaker, as yet unannounced, will talk on "The Universality of Music," and the third speaker, Dr. Bill Lockhart, associate professor of art at Texas Tech, will talk on "The Role of the Artist in Contemporary Society."

Each speaker will appear for 15 minutes.

Other events slated for the festival include an art exhibition, to open Sunday in the college library at 1:30 p. m., featuring one-woman shows by Charlotte Lee of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Mary Brown of Dumas, and works by students and faculty of WT. A concert by three musical groups is slated at 3:30 p. m. Sunday.

CITY PASSES PAVING RULE

An ordinance requiring that all streets to be paved in the future must be 37 feet wide was passed Monday night by the Canyon City Commission.

At present, most of the streets in Canyon are 31 feet wide, measured from the back sides of the curbs. The new width will also be measured from the backs of the curbs.

Under terms of the ordinance, any person or contractor paving streets or alleys or installing curbing must obtain a permit from the city secretary. Contractors must also put up a bond in the amount of $1000 or 10 per cent of the construction cost, whichever is greater, to insure compliance with the ordinance.

If construction is not meeting city specifications, the permit can be revoked by the city secretary and his ruling may be appealed to the city commission. Penalty for non-compliance with the ordinance is a fine from $10 to $200.

The ordinance also stipulates that not less than one block of paving can be put down unless it is being constructed to complete a block which is already partially paved. The same ruling applies to alleys.

Annual P-PHS Dinner May 9

More than 350 persons are expected from throughout the Panhandle for the annual dinner and meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, to be held here May 9.

Featured as dinner speaker will be Dr. D. M. Wiggins of Lubbock, executive vice president of the Citizens' National Bank and a former president of Texas Tech. His address will be "What Price, Security?" The dinner will be in the West Texas State College cafeteria.

A large number of reservations for the dinner, to be held at 7 p. m., have already been made, according to C. Boone McClure, executive secretary of the society. Tickets are $2.50 each, and reservations can be made with Mrs. Ralph Harbin, archivist for the society's museum.

The society's 37th annual meeting will open at 2 p. m. with a meeting of the executive committee. Election of new officers and reports of committees and the auditor will be main business during a general meeting of members at 3 p. m. at the museum.

Presiding at meetings and toastmaster for the banquet will be Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo, president of the society. Other members of the executive committee are Frank Shaller of Canadian, first vice president, M. K. Brown of Pampa, second vice president, McClure, and directors J. Henry Sears of Hereford, J. Harold Dunn of Amarillo, J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, Harold D. Bugbee of Clarendon, Newton Harrell of Claude, and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State.

GOC Expects 24 Hour Exercise

Canyon's Ground Observer Corps post will take part in the first phase of a national civil defense training exercise on May 6 and 7. The exact time of the alert will not be announced ahead of time, but sometime during the two days, a 24-hour alert will be called.

Members of the GOC will have two-hour shifts watching for "enemy" aircraft from the observation post on top of the courthouse. Mrs. T. G. Dewey, post supervisor, and Earl Crump, chief observer, will be on duty during the entire operation.

Any citizen is invited to visit the GOC post while the exercise is underway. Any questions about the observer corps and its operation is welcomed.

Senior Play Set at Happy

The senior class of Happy High School will present a three-act farce entitled "Fixin' Aunt Fanny" in the Happy Grade School auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday. Admission is 25 cents for first through fifth graders, 50 cents for sixth through twelfth grades, and 75 cents for adults.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET

The Canyon Garden Club will meet May 8 with Mrs. Jeannette Robbins, Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. E. R. Cleaver will present a program on roses.

Hale-Aikin Reports Tell of Rumors About Possible New City to North

Rumors of the establishment of an incorporated city between Canyon and Amarillo and the construction of 50 to 60 new homes in Canyon were told during the report meeting of the Hale-Aikin committee Monday night.

In making the report of the Growth Trends committee, chairman A. W. Lair said that a group of men have been thinking of incorporating a city in the area south of the Hollywood crossing. He said that more than one group of construction men are thinking of building housing areas here.

The committee's report predicted a 44 per cent growth in Canyon during the next five year period, and then expected the population increase to level off. The committee predicted a five per cent increase next school year, six per cent for 1959-60, 10 per cent for 1960-61, 11 per cent for 1961-62 and 12 per cent for 1962-63.

The committee based its report on surveys obtained from Belle Plaine, Kan., Richardson, Texas, Tempe, Ariz., and Boulder, Colo. All are cities located at the end of an expressway leading from a larger city. Boulder had the nearest situation to Canyon because it is a university town, Lair said.

Other reports made during the meeting were from Bob Wear, chairman of the Teacher Supply Committee; the Rev. Strauss Atkinson, chairman of the Finance Committee; and J. E. Miller, chairman of the Curriculum Committee.

The complete reports of the committees will be printed in succeeding weeks by The Canyon News. The first report, that of the Curriculum Committee, are on pages six and seven of this week's issue. The next report will be from the Teacher Supply Committee.

Traffic Safety or Else

Beginning last Wednesday morning, citizens and officials all over the state undertook a comprehensive traffic safety program to cut the number of accidents, injuries and fatalities in Texas. The program began with a radio speech by Gov. Price Daniel and the organization of county traffic safety committees.

Highway Patrolman Gilbert Ray was elected chairman of the Randall County committee, but has been forced to resign from the position because it conflicts with Department of Public Safety policy. However, Ray set a goal for this county that we should all try to reach. "I'd like to make Randall County the safest county in Texas," he said.

Ray went on, "We can organize committees nine days a week and twice on Sunday, but we can't get anything done without all the people of the county. We can make this the safest county if we have the backing of every person that drives a car in the county. We reap the benefits (of safety) ourselves, not the people down in Presidio or someplace else."

So that's our goal—becoming the safest county in Texas. To gain our objective, all drivers must do or not do several things—we must slow down, we must not drink and drive, we must obey warning and stop signs, we must be careful to drive on our side of the road, we must grant right-of-way to other drivers, we must pass properly and park properly, and we must be careful not to follow other cars too closely.

Those things are the violations which caused most of the accidents in the state last year, and most other years, too. Pay some attention to these figures for Texas in 1957:

Speeding caused 57 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Driving while drinking caused 34 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Disregarding warning or stop signs caused 20 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Driving on the wrong side of the road caused 16 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Driving without the right-of-way caused eight per cent of the fatal accidents.

Improper passing caused eight per cent of the fatal accidents.

Improper parking caused two per cent of the fatal accidents.

Following too closely caused one per cent of the fatal accidents.

Is it worth the trouble for us to drive more carefully? In 1957, there were seven people killed in Randall County.

A Misunderstanding

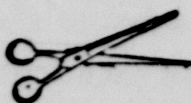

A couple of weeks ago, we published an article on the school board reorganization which said, among other things, that the board approved a budget of $3,000 for athletic equipment for the coming year. That was a correct statement of school board action.

But in no time at all, high school coach Bill Davis began to hear criticism that he was spending $3,000 on football for the high school, and that's not true at all.

In defense of Davis and the school board, we would like for all to know that the $3,000 budget covers athletic equipment for 7th, 8th, freshman, B-squad and varsity football, girls and boys basketball and physical education—the whole athletic program.

What Our Neighbors Say ...

Scissor Snippings

"The Preacher" in the Canadian Record: As a youth my days were filled with exciting events some of which led to a very smarting sensation which occurred in the region of my backwoods anatomy. One such occasion was the day I "borrowed" the "nest eggs" from the henhouse to hide for an Easter Egg hunt. The explanation was that those "nest eggs" were to be left in the nest every time and never removed so that the old hens wouldn't know we were filching their eggs. Poor old gullible hens. They never seemed to miss the eggs so long as you left at least one for them to start over with. I learned to my dismay, however, that if you get greedy and remove all the eggs that many times the old hens wake up to the fact that they've been robbed and they promptly move to another nesting place.

I sometimes wonder how long it will be before "the goose" that is laying the "golden eggs" in this community will become discouraged at the greediness of some who would like to take even the "nest egg" and move to another nesting place. I refer of course to those who have so wonderfully bolstered our economy and put new blood into our community. Where but two short years ago new folk were welcomed into our community with smiles of true western welcome, now we find that the smile is the "chessie-cat" smile of one who is about to eat the "canary." Two years ago our community was known as a friendly, hospitable little town. Today in the minds of many of our newer citizens it is a town of greed and heartlessness. Why?

It seems that we have changed the "golden rule" for a rule of Gold. Instead of treating "our neighbor as ourself," or "doing unto others as we would have them do unto us," we have the idea of doing our neighbor (especially the new ones) for as much as we can get by with. There is one thing certain. When we are only interested in folk for what we can get out of them, we sure won't be getting much.

Within the framework of our

In 1956 there were nine. In 1955 there were 16. So far this year, there has been one person killed in the county—the woman who was hit by a car just south of Amarillo the other night. Who can measure the worth of one life? By driving more carefully, maybe you can save one life and that would be worth all the trouble it takes.

So far this year, accidents seem to be located near centers of population, Ray says. For some reason, many are showing up on Highway 60 just north of Canyon, especially at the VFW road turnoff. There have been three between Happy and Canyon on the new four-lane highway—one from a driver turning in front of a school bus and two that involved one-car turnovers.

Ray says, "Even though you have a divided highway that keeps the cars from getting together, some drivers are going to break all the laws they can and get into trouble."

Figures don't mean much to most people—they can be stretched this way and that way and they aren't too interesting to read. But here is a simple set of figures that should be shocking.

The United States has been in eight wars from the Revolutionary War through the Korean War. In those eight wars, 1,130,393 Americans were killed. That covers a span of 182 years. In the 57 years since 1900, 1,227,542 Americans were killed in U. S. highway accidents.

Cars have killed 97,149 more people than wars!

Randall County has its goal. The county cannot reach its goal without the cooperation of all the drivers in the county. Can your neighbor count on you?

Fascinating

There's something about huge dirt-moving machinery that captivates men and stirs their imaginations. Witness the groups which stood around Friday and Saturday watching the machinery at work on the intersection of Fourth Avenue and 16th Street.

An oddity that could be noticed was that more men were watching when the machines were tearing up the old pavement than were watching when the new base was laid and smoothed. Could that mean that people are more interested in destruction than in construction?

At any rate, the heavy-duty work offered more free entertainment than we've had in a long time. There's something about a bulldozer or a loader ripping slabs of three-inch concrete that is hard to beat.

Outing Time Here

The time for picnics, hikes and forays out-of-doors has arrived. We can tell that for sure—the first in a summer-long series of people falling or getting stranded in Palo Duro State Park has occurred.

There's no good reason why the accidents occur each year, except that people seem to have more confidence in their abilities than they should. To save yourself the embarrassment, don't climb up where you can't climb down, and don't stray too close to the edge of any cliff. But enjoy yourself.

I am always meeting interesting people. For example—

A good many years ago, I was in a hotel lobby in Austin to meet J. Frank Dobie for lunch. At that time, I had met the famous author only once so I accosted a man who resembled him. He said the mistake had been made by others, too. He turned out to be a former Texas Ranger.

Later, I heard bits of adventurous stories about him. One was that he had made friends with the Yaqui Indians in Mexico; that they had virtually adopted him as a "brother" and had bestowed on him the nickname of "the Blond Apache."

Supporting this was a statement that a matter-of-fact business man of Austin made to me. He said: "I don't know whether that is so or not—but I do know that he came to me and asked me for $200 for the purpose of going to Mexico and getting silver from the Yaquis; and I let him have the money and, some weeks later, he returned and paid me back, three-for-one."

Speaking of Mr. Dobie:

A few years back when I stepped off a bus in Austin, he and his charming wife were waiting. I raised my hat, greeted them and said:

"I really did not expect this honor; you should not have gone to the trouble of meeting me."

"Boyce, we didn't come down to greet you; we are looking for our niece."

I pretended to be greatly disappointed. (The fact was Mr. Dobie couldn't have known I was coming as I had made up my mind only a few minutes before I boarded the bus.)

Mrs. Dobie, not fooled at all, only smiled.

One day from the train, the young traveler saw this little scene: A woman standing in a clearing which had a shanty in the middle; two small children in the yard, a big kettle with a fire under it. She was young and, as she looked at the train, it seemed that there was a longing in her eyes although this was only imagined for actually she was too far away. The whole scene lasted a matter of seconds—but half a century later, it is still remembered.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Soil Stewardship Week, a national observance sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, is the week of May 11-18.

The supervisors of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District were in a meeting of the Ministerial Alliance of Canyon in early April, at which time it was indicated that every church in Canyon, Umbarger and Bushland, and most churches in Amarillo will observe Soil Stewardship Week with appropriate sermons on May 18.

In addition to sermons on the stewardship of our soil, local youth will be speakers at many of the churches.

The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods. Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? . . . He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; . . . He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation. —Psalm 24:1-5.

Where the psalmist left off, the scientist, the naturalist, the humanitarian take up the refrain, "The earth is the Lord's." The late L. H. Bailey, former dean of the College of Agriculture of Cornell University, gives his version of Psalm 24:

"If God created the earth, so is the earth hallowed; and if it is hallowed, so must we deal with it devotedly and with care that we do not despoil it, and mindful of our relations to all beings that live on it . . .

We may not waste that which is not ours. To live in sincere relations with the company of created things and with conscious regard for the support of all men now and yet to come, must be the essence of righteousness. This is a larger and more original relation than the modern attitude of appreciation and admiration of nature . . .

If the earth is holy, then the things that grow out of the earth are also holy. They do not belong to man to do with them as he will. Dominion does not carry personal ownership. There are many generations of folk yet to come after us, who will have equal rights with us to the products of the globe."

This is the root and the philosophy of the teaching of Christian stewardship — the stewardship of the soil — from which is grown, or dug, or otherwise taken all the wealth we "possess," all that goes to make our physical way of life. It is a stewardship we exercise not only for ourselves and our own day, but for our children for many generations to come.

It is the urgent desire of every supervisor of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District that you be in attendance at the church of your choice on May 18.

"We want everyone possible to observe Soil Stewardship Week," says J. W. Spencer, chairman of the Board of Supervisors. "But we don't want soil stewardship to end with an observance. We want every farmer and rancher in the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District to be good stewards of their land all the time."

From an unknown author, "Live as though you were going to die tomorrow; farm as though you were going to live forever."

Mary Ann Becker of Pampa was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Veta Bain Wiseman of Vega and Glenda Smith, sister of the bridegroom.

Candlelighters were Janice Smith, sister of the bridegroom, and Johnny Glen Cahill, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white lace and a white lace duster. Her accessories were of white and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Pampa High School and is a junior education major at WT. Her husband is a senior science major at WT.

WRONG ROAD

Lady — I'm going to sue my husband for divorce and I want you to tell the court about his character.

Phrenologist — Well, bring him around and I'll feel the bumps on his head.

Lady — That won't be necessary. The bumps are on my head.

36th Division Wins Many Battle Honors During World War II Action

(This is the third in a series of articles about the Texas National Guard, the 36th Division and Company F, stationed in Canyon. — Editor)

During World War II, the 36th Division justified its proud heritage. Its history dates back to 1835 and the Alamo when the 141st Regiment was born during the Texas Revolution.

The 36th was inducted into Federal service on Nov. 2, 1940, for its World War II duty. In the years following, the men of the division bore the distaste of early Army shortages, transformed a fledgling muddy camp into habitable quarters, held maneuvers in the swamplands of Louisiana. It moved to sandy Camp Blanding, Fla., in February, 1942, and there was fitted for an early overseas shipment. But a change of orders sent the 36th to the warm Carolinas for extensive maneuvers during the summer of 1942.

The next stop for the T-Patchers was a station on Cape Cod, Mass. —Camp Edwards. Here, living in tent cities, the men practiced the new art of amphibious operations. After being cold-tested at 20 degrees below zero, the division assembled for embarkation.

Then on April 2, 1943, the rugged 36th sailed from the New York Port of Embarkation and by fast convoy arrived at Oran, Algeria, 11 days later.

The division was kept in reserve at a North African training ground at Magenta until Rommel's Afrika Corps was decisively whipped at Tunis and Biserte. During the summer, the 141st and 143rd regiments were used to protect French Morocco while the 142nd patrolled a wide area of Algeria in search of stray German troops.

The 36th formed the backbone of the newly-organized Fifth Army and served as school troops at the Army's Invasion Training Center on the Mediterranean at Arzew. While here it trained the veteran 1st and green 45th divisions before they participated in the invasion of Sicily.

Then the time came for the 36th to show what it could do. On Sept. 9, the division sailed to take part in the invasion of Salerno. The long months of training paid off as an unyielding 36th held the beachhead.

The T-Patchers went on to win more battle honors and decorations as they proved their worth at Naples-Foggia, Anzio, Rome-Arno, Southern France, the Rhineland, Ardennes-Alsace and through Central Europe.

During 19 months of combat in World War II, the 36th Division participated in five major campaigns and two amphibious assaults expending the maximum in heroism and hardship. The 36th earned a record that it may be proud of; it captured 175,806 enemy soldiers, won 15 Congressional Medals of Honor, 10 Presidential Unit Citations and numerous other battle awards.

At the same time its casualty list, the third highest of any American division, numbered 27,343, of whom 3974 were killed, 19,052 wounded and 4317 missing in action.

Company F, based in the Army east of Canyon, is open for inspection by interested citizens at any time. The company drills each Monday night. Young men interested in fulfilling their military obligation through service with their friends and neighbors should investigate the possibilities of joining Company F.

(The next in this series will concern Company F, 142nd Infantry Regiment, in particular and will include interviews with local men who served with the 36th Division in World War II.)

their abilities and objectives (college, vocational, etc.)?
 Answer: Yes. A counselor would be helpful.
 22. Is there a systematic procedure available in all schools of the county where test results may be interpreted to pupils and parents so they can form opinions regarding the child's achievements, abilities and limitations?

The following is the report of the Curriculum or School Program Committee which has been studying Canyon's schools. The report was given Monday night, along with reports of four other committees. This is the first installment of the Hale-Aikin report, and the others will be printed in later issues of The Canyon News.

The explanatory material and questions answered by the committee were given in a booklet sent to each county by the Hale-Aikin Committee of 24, which will study the grass roots reports and make recommendations to the legislative committee next fall.—The Editor.

School Program

Statutory Requirements

Present Texas statutes require the public schools to provide instruction in physical education, the Constitutions of the United States and Texas, agriculture, manual training, domestic economy, orthography, reading, English, penmanship, arithmetic, English grammar, modern geography, composition, mental arithmetic, Texas history, US history, civil government, elementary agriculture, cotton grading, physiology and hygiene, effects of alcohol and narcotics, kindness to animals, and the protection of birds, their nests and eggs. Upon petition of parents of 25 or more children between five and six years of age a kindergarten must be established as a part of the public school. A one-year course in American Citizenship must be offered in the high schools and must include a study of government, civics, constitutions, and one-half semester of Texas history.

Questions

1. Do schools in your area conform to these statutes? If not, why not?

Answer: Yes.

2. What should be added or deleted from the present legal requirements regarding instruction in Texas schools?

Answer: This group recommends that the laws of the state regarding curriculum be revised periodically to keep emphasis on goals for education of our children rather than on specific courses. We feel that laws should not define course and content.

Standards for Improvement

The Foundation School Program laws state that their purpose is "to guarantee to each child of school age in Texas the availability of a Minimum Foundation School Program for nine months of the year." These laws also authorize the State Board of Education to establish regulations for accrediting schools.

The principles and standards for accreditation relate in general to community support, development of acceptable policies and plans by the local board and administration, the program of instruction, the training of the staff, methods and procedures in teaching, satisfactory schedule, acceptable buildings, equipment and supplies, and a balanced program to meet the needs of all children.

The State Board of Education has set the following standards, effective for all pupils entering ninth grade after Sept. 1, 1958, for graduation from Texas high schools: Three units in English, one unit in World History, one unit in American History, and one-half unit in Government (including an intensive study of the United States and Texas Constitutions), two units in mathematics, and two units in laboratory sciences. Two years of vocational courses or two years of foreign language may be accepted as an alternate for one year of science. In such cases the remaining science unit must be either Biology, Chemistry, Physics, or Applied Science taught by the laboratory method.

(Canyon High School has slightly higher requirements for graduation, requiring 17 credits instead of 16, and requiring four units of English instead of three, and three units of social studies (World History, American History, Government and Texas History) instead of 2½.—Editor)

The Board has established the following as the minimum course offerings in an accredited high school, effective in September, 1959: Four years of English, four years of mathematics, four years of laboratory science, two and one-half years of social sciences, and adequate program of health and physical education, and enough elective courses to provide alternatives for pupils.

The regulation also requires eight classroom teachers other than the superintendent and vocational teachers in each 12-grade school. Seven teachers will be acceptable if the school meets every other standard and the superintendent teaches three classes.

Four hundred and thirty-five Texas high schools are members of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, a regional accrediting agency. Members participate in professional standards that are region-wide and receive out-of-state recognition for work done in Texas high schools.

Southern Association standards may be summarized as follows: The school shall be operated on democratic principles, provide for personal growth and development, have adequate resources, a schedule of at least 175 days of instruction, a staff with degrees and training in the subjects they teach in addition to 12 semester hours in professional education courses, $3,000 or more annual salary for teachers, a teaching load of less than 150 pupil-periods per day with one free period, and suitable buildings, grounds, supplies, and equipment.

Questions

3. How many districts in your county teach only elementary grades? What provisions are made for the high school education of pupils living in those districts?

Answer: None.

4. These provisions have what effect on (a) the pupil (b) the home district (c) the district providing high school instruction to transferred pupils?

Answer: Does not apply.

5. Are the provisions for high school education satisfactory in your county for those children whose grade is not taught in the home district? List any suggestions you may have for improvement.

Answer: Does not apply. Negative.

6. To what extent are elementary grades combined under one teacher in your county? How satisfactory, in your opinion, is this arrangement?

Answer: Does not apply. Negative.

7. Does an examination of the elementary school programs in your county show that the following areas are taught adequately? Reading, Spelling, Speaking, Writing, Arithmetic, Science, Geography, History, Health, Physical Education, Music, Arts and Crafts.

Answer: Our school compares favorably with others in the state, but has room for improvement in physical education.

8. Do all high schools in your county meet the minimum requirements for graduation for Texas high schools as described in the first paragraph on page two?

Answer: Yes. Exceeded.

9. Are there other courses that should be required of all students? If so, please list them.

Answer: This group recommends that two years of laboratory science—chemistry, biology, physics, or general science—be required with no substitutions such as vocational subjects allowed.

10. Is the content of high school courses, as taught in your county, adequate and are standards high enough? If not, what are your suggestions?

Answer: We need to study our curriculum and revise it in the light of present and future needs, although on the whole the content is adequate and the standards are high.

11. The presently approved courses that may be taught in Texas high schools are listed in the Public School Directory. Are there courses which you believe should be deleted from or added to this list?

Answer: Anthropology, geology and Russian should be added.

12. Do all high schools meet the minimum requirements as to course offerings that will become effective in 1959?

Answer: Yes.

13. Do all twelve-grade school systems in your county meet the standard concerning the number of teachers required in an accredited twelve-year school?

Answer: Yes.

14. What should be done in your county to insure that every child lives in a district meeting the minimum standards for accreditation?

Answer: Eventual consolidation or standardization for accreditation.

15. Does a comparison of course offerings available in the high schools of your county show a balance between required and elective courses so as to provide adequate educational opportunities for each child according to his abilities, interests and plans? If not, how can this be accomplished in your county?

Answer: Yes.

16. Are high schools in your county members of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools?

Answer: Yes.

17. In your opinion is membership in this regional accrediting association of value to Texas high schools?

Answer: Yes.

The typical school schedule calls for at least 175 days of instruction with a minimum of seven hours at school. Most high school pupils are in class five periods per day. These periods are expected to be at least 55 minutes long, but standards permit 45 to 50 minute periods in some cases. The elementary children have varied schedules, but are under the supervision of a teacher all day.

18. In your opinion, would a longer period of time in school result in a better instructional program? What are your suggestions?

Answer: We need to make a continued study of use and length of time in school.

Guidance
 An essential part of every good school program is the guidance of pupils in making plans and decisions about careers, future education and employment. Boys and girls must be directed toward the most favorable development of their abilities.

An effective program includes the assignment of specific guidance responsibilities to staff members, an organized plan for collecting, recording and using needed information, and adequate materials and supplies.

Questions

19. Do the schools in your county make use of standardized tests for all pupils in the following areas: (1) achievement, (2) mental ability, (3) aptitude, (4) interests and vocational preferences?

Answer: Yes.

20. Do all schools in your county have a pupil personnel accounting and reporting system which shows an adequate, current record indicating the health, progress and ability of every pupil?

Answer: Health records are inadequate. A school nurse is needed.

21. Do all schools have an organized, planned program for giving guidance to students in terms of Answer: This is done informally but not systematically.

23. What do you recommend be done by the state and the local districts to insure effective guidance for every pupil?

Answer: Lower classroom units required for guidance personnel under ADA.

Vocational Education

The State now provides teacher units and some other funds for Vocational Agriculture, Vocational Homemaking, Distributive Education, and Trade and Industrial Education. In the 1955-56 school year, 11.26 per cent of this money was provided by the Federal Government.

These teachers provide instruction in the classroom, on the farm, in the home, in distribution and in industry to prepare high school students and out-of-school youth for vocations they desire to enter in adult life. Leadership development programs such as the FFA and the FHA are integral parts of the instructional program for high school students. The vocational teachers also develop programs to assist adults to become more efficient in their occupations.

Questions

24. Do all high school pupils in your county have an opportunity to study vocational education?

Answer: Yes.

25. In examining schedules and transcripts, do you find that all who need vocational courses have suitable ones available? Do you find instances in which every child in high school takes vocational courses because there are not alternatives available to him?

Answer: First part, yes. Second part, no.

26. Changing economic conditions affect the instructional content needed in vocational programs. Are changes needed in present instruction being given in vocational education in your county?

Answer: No.

27. What can be done at the state and district level to assure that vocational education is meeting the present needs?

Answer: Should permit vocational teachers to teach other subjects where needed and when qualified. Eliminate duplication of school and county roles in vocational agriculture and home economics.

Special Education for the Handicapped

Present laws provide teacher unit allotments for "exceptional children" including the orthopedically and physically handicapped, the hard of hearing, speech impaired, the educable and/or trainable mentally retarded, the deaf and the blind. If one district does not have enough handicapped children for a unit, a cooperative unit may be developed by two or more districts.

Questions

28. Are the handicapped children in your county now provided for adequately? If not, what should be done?

Answer: Yes.

29. How would you define the responsibilities of the local district and the state in providing education for the handicapped child?

Answer: Present program satisfactory.

Special Education for the Gifted
Many school districts have a program in operation that locates the "gifted" child and provides enriched learning opportunities for him. State laws do not provide special programs for gifted children.

Questions

30. Do the schools of your county locate and meet the needs of the gifted child?

Answer: Could do a better job.

31. If, in your opinion, a special program should be developed for the gifted child, how should it be done by the state? By the local district?

Answer: Needs more study.

Driver Education

The Legislature has assigned the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Education Agency the responsibility for keeping high standards in the driver education program. These standards require classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction offered by trained teachers.

Questions

32. Should driver education be provided in every high school?

Answer: Driver education should be taught by the Department of Public Safety and taking the course should be required of everyone receiving a driver's license.

33. What is the responsibility of the state and the local district for driver education?

Answer: See question number 32 and the answer to it.

Adult Education

Some districts provide adult education as a locally-supported activity. State laws and policies do not provide general education programs for adults, although vocational teachers work with adults in specialized vocational areas.

Questions

34. Do the schools of your county provide adult education programs?

Answer: Yes, for vocational agriculture and home economics.

35. What is the need for such programs?

Answer: See answer to question number 36.

36. What should be the responsibilities of the State and the local district for adult education?

Answer: This group suggests that 35 and 36 proposals be studied further to determine whether need exists and if so, what the need is.

School Personnel

The Minimum Foundation Program provides a superintendent unit for every accredited school system operating a 12-grade program, regardless of size. Part-time principal units are provided for schools having three to 19 teacher units. Schools with 20 or more teacher units may be allocated full time principals as well as part time principals on a formula basis. Assistant superintendents, business managers and other administrative positions, where desired, may be paid for from local funds.

The program provides for the allocation of classroom teacher units on the basis of the average daily attendance of pupils. (The formula allows the Canyon system one classroom teacher unit for each 25 pupils in average daily attendance.—Editor).

For each 20 classroom teacher units the Minimum Foundation Program also provides one special service unit—either a librarian, school nurse, school physician, visiting teacher, or itinerant teacher. A school having less than 20 classroom teacher units may enter into a cooperative agreement with other districts within a county to share the services of one of these positions. One supervisor or counselor is allocated on the basis of each 40 classroom teacher units within a school system or through a cooperative agreement.

Questions

37. Do schools of your county have available the general administrative (central office) services and personnel that they need?

Answer: Yes.

38. Does each school building have an adequate administrative staff (principal and assistants)?

Answer: Yes.

39. Do the schools in your county have teaching staffs that are adequate in number and professional preparation?

Answer: Yes. This answer applies only to the Canyon schools and does not include Umbarger, which has state-supported school.

40. To what extent are teachers overloaded in your county?

Answer: The librarian and the music teacher in the elementary schools in Canyon are over-loaded and the elementary teachers need a free period each day for planning. The music teacher in the junior high school and high school also is overloaded.

41. To what extent are classes so small that full utilization is not made of the teaching staff?

Answer: Not at all. (ADA formula makes for imbalance because in order to offer classes for a few other classes must have large numbers of students in them).

42. Do all children in your county have guidance services? Health services?

Answer: No.

43. What improvements can be made at the state and local level to provide adequate administrative, teaching, and special service personnel for the schools in your county?

Answer: School nurse and counselor should be added. (ADA formula requires too much school room personnel to qualify for these things).

Instructional Materials

The instructional material used by teachers are too numerous for a full discussion of them here, but a few of the major categories are textbooks, libraries, laboratories, films, tape recordings, educational radio and television and general supplies for instruction.

Questions

44. Are pupils provided textbooks that are adequate in number and quality?

Answer: Recommend that some provision be made for emergency supplies to meet growth.

45. In your opinion, are there adequate safeguards to insure economy in the administration of the textbook law?

Answer: Recommend that the law be changed to provide for growth and regulations relaxed to handle increased enrollment.

46. Do all the schools of your county have available an adequate library for elementary and high school pupils?

Answer: Yes, but we recommend a full-time librarian for the elementary school and the junior high school.

47. Do your schools provide and use adequate laboratories for every subject requiring laboratory instruction?

Answer: Yes, but the elementary school should have a room with science materials in it for science study. More space is needed for laboratory sciences in the high school.

48. Is there a program in operation in your area that makes films available to teachers at the time needed to enrich instruction? Do your schools have a cooperative plan for this service?

Answer: No.

49. Are educational tape recordings regularly used in your schools?

Answer: To a limited extent.

50. What should the role of the state and the local district be in providing: textbooks, educational films, educational tape recordings?

Answer: Every school should supply its own.

51. Do schools in your county use educational radio and television?

Answer: No.

52. How can radio and television be used effectively for instruction by your schools?

Answer: As a supplementary teaching aid with carefully-chosen programs.

53. What is the responsibility of the state for developing a statewide program of educational television?

Answer: Leadership role only.

54. How is the $350-$400 per teacher allotment used by the schools in your area?

Answer: Maintenance, materials and supplies.

55. How much do the schools in your county spend for maintenance and operation over the present state allotment?

Answer: $22,150.

56. In your opinion, are the schools adequately provided with libraries and instructional materials needed for pupils to do effective work? If not, how can these be provided?

Answer: Yes.

Auxiliary Services

Transportation. The present laws permit, but do not require, school districts to establish a system of transportation for school children. The state contributes to this program according to a formula based on number of pupils transported, bus size, length of routes, and road conditions. A county map showing school bus routes is available in the office of your County Superintendent.

School Lunch. The school lunch program has been one of the major developments in Texas education in the past 20 years. Approximately 90 per cent of this program is financed by local funds, chiefly through the sale of lunches to children, and approximately 10 per cent of the support comes from the Federal Government. The relatively small state expenditure for the school lunch program is to provide a liaison between local school districts and the US Department of Agriculture and to provide consultative service.

Questions

57. Are school transportation services adequate in your county?

Answer: Yes.

58. Are your school lunch programs satisfactory?

Answer: Yes.

59. Should school transportation services be provided within city limits where adequate public transportation is not available?

Answer: No. Not as a school responsibility.

60. What changes (state or local) do you recommend be made to improve the school transportation and school lunch services in your county?

Answer: None.

Canyon's Troop 66 Takes First Place
At Camp Don Harrington Field Day

Troop 66 of Canyon won their second straight Boy Scout field day at Camp Don Harrington last weekend.

One of six units to score Class
A rating, Troop 66 scored 803 out of a possible 820 points to set a new record for the field day. The troop broke its own record of 754, set last year. Dewaine Clay was named outstanding scout.

Troop 31 of Canyon earned a Class C rating, even though it is a new troop started last September.

Behind the winning troop were Troop 24 of Amarillo, who scored 715 points to take second place;
Troop 13 of Amarillo, third, 676;
Troop 9, fourth, 632; Troop 5, fifth, 624; and Troop 12, sixth, 610.

The boys from the winning troop dedicated the field day to their scoutmaster Raymond Haddock, a senior at West Texas State College, who is in his last year of competition.

The field day began at 4 p. m.
Friday, with registration of the approximately 1,000 boys from 33 troops in the Llano Estacado Council.

Competition began with camp set up. Larry Brotherton was the senior patrol leader in charge of 66's camp.

Each troop's entries in 14 events were determined by drawing names. The teams in three events were previously selected.

The knot-tying team set a new record, 100 per cent accuracy in tying 21 knots perfectly. Four of the team members did not know all of the knots before the field day.

Craig Hinger was high point man with 99 points out of a possible 100 in the rifle marksmen-ship team, under the leadership of Chuck Nester. Nester and Neal Lemons each scored 98 points, and Davis Price and Elo Myers scored 97 points each, to give the team a total of 489 of a possible 500.

The team had been practicing on the rifle range of the Reserve

Officers Training Corps at WT.
Sgt. Clyde Thomas and Sgt. John
Stritzel coached the team.

Clay tied with Terry Logdson of Troop 24 of Amarillo for first place in archery. Clay, who shot a 42, tied for first place last year.

Brotherton placed second in artificial baitcasting with a score of 88 points. John Weathered of Troop 80, Amarillo, was first with a score of 91. Brotherton took first last year with 92.

Canyon's nature study team under the leadership of Mike Calli-ham identified 39 of 40 specimens.

Troop 66 scored 100 per cent accuracy in the Morse code signaling contest. The troop made the highest score in uniform inspection and scout drill.

The winner's trophy was presented by Chief Judge Sam D.
George and accepted by Haddock.

The field day was attended by 42 members of Troop 66 and 18 members of Troop 31.

'Women Judged by 3 Things' Says Amarillo Lecturer in Charm Course

Women are judged by three things, said Mrs. Mickey McDonald, head of an Amarillo modeling school, as she spoke Thursday in the West Texas State College Administration Building auditorium.

Women are judged by what they wear, what they say, and what other people sense about them, Mrs. McDonald said.

Mrs. McDonald, whose lecture was sponsored by the home demonstration clubs of Randall County, spoke on "Every Woman a Model of Charm" to about 100 women representing every part of the county.

The speaker declared that charm is based on a well-proportioned figure, a graceful walk and seated position, grooming, wardrobe, "make down," and voice.

"Diet controls pounds. Exercise controls inches," said Mrs. McDonald, who appears regularly on the Ruth Brent television show, in telling of the proper relation of diet and exercise in attaining a well-proportioned figure.

She expressed the view that 30 minutes of regular daily exercise would help a woman reach and keep a symmetrical figure.

Illustrating types of bad walks, Mrs. McDonald said, "A bad walk always attracts attention."

A graceful walk was defined as the glide walk.

"There should be no motion except from the thighs down. The upper torso should be held firm."

In seating herself gracefully, a charming lady will place one heel directly under the chair and feel the chair seat gently with the calf of the leg before lowering herself with a straight back, making the thighs lower the body, Mrs. McDonald said.

In commenting upon wardrobe, the lecturer said that while chemise dresses are high style, a few basic, well chosen clothes are more suitable to the average woman's wardrobe. Accessories should be chosen to compliment the basic dresses.

Plain dresses should not be worn unless the lady has a symmetrical figure. Vertical lines and horizontal lines may be used to accent the strong points of a figure. "Voice should have tone, resonance, inflection and diction," Mrs. McDonald said.

The speaker also told audience members how to apply "make down" to play down the poor points of the facial features and to stress the natural look.

Starting with immaculate skin, one must apply a good foundation before applying face powder and rouge. These should be followed by careful use of mascara, an eyebrow pencil and eye shadow.

Mrs. Warwick Is Sorority Speaker

Mrs. Clyde Warwick was speaker at the April 22 meeting of Phi Alpha Psi, local chapter of International Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Warwick spoke on the subject "Am I Intellectually Competent?"

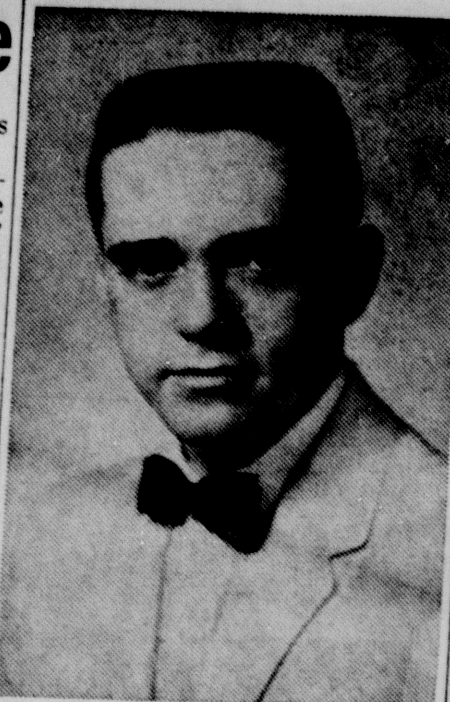

Plans were made for two banquets and a pledge service.

A Mother's Day banquet will be held May 11 at 8:30 a. m. at Amarillo's Dresden Inn for members and their mothers. The Founder's Day Banquet will be held today in Amarillo.

Formal pledge vows and installation will be held May 6.

Mrs. Ray McReynolds returned home from Grandview last week after being at the bedside of her father, who was seriously ill. His condition has improved.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Cuba

Ten persons, representing themselves as former members of the Cuban Congress, have sent a memorandum to the Members of the United States Congress. This memorandum includes statements of a very serious nature, insofar as the United States is concerned. For instance, the second paragraph of the letter is as follows:

"There is at present a widespread belief in Cuba that the United States Government is supporting Batista's ruthless dictatorship in contradiction to the repeatedly declared American policy in favor of world freedom and democracy. This belief is buttressing Batista's dictatorship, prolonging the terrible civil war now ravaging the country and seriously impairing the prestige and good-will of the United States in Cuba."

You will note that the statements contained in that paragraph are conclusions of the writers and not factual; however, this paragraph is followed by another paragraph containing four subheads purporting to document supporting facts. A close observation of the matter contained in the four subheads reveals the assumption of facts rather than the documentation thereof.

The information has been sent out by Dr. Lincoln Rodon, 5121 Alton Road, Miami Beach, Florida, and he is joined by nine others. The gravity of the charges would certainly grant a full investigation by the Department of State, the Department of Justice, and the Department of Defense.

The Reorganization of the Defense Department

The President's proposal to reorganize the Defense Department will probably cause major fireworks on Capitol Hill. There is a decided division of opinion as to the role that should be played by civilians in the military set-up. It is accepted that the military has always been very jealous of what it considers its jurisdiction.

This applies not only to the military as a whole, but to the several departments of the military, to wit, the Army, the Air Force and the Navy. In fact, there have been rumors of jealousies cropping up between the different branches of each of the departments.

It is these inter-service rivalries that could be the major factor prompting the President's new proposal. It will be remembered that it was only a few years ago that our military establishment was reorganized and the Office of Secretary of Defense created. This new office was given cabinet status and replaced the former Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy.

That reorganization was supposed to answer all of the inter-service problems and unify under one command the operations of our military. The purpose to be accomplished was a more effective military operation at less cost to the taxpayer.

It has been argued many times that unification was not accomplished by that reorganization and that costs were not reduced but increased; that the actual result was nothing more than the creation of a new and additional department of the military. It would certainly be safe to say that the sought after result was not accomplished by the previous reorganization; otherwise, there would be no need for the new proposals of the President.

Whether or not the President is right in this new approach is not the controlling question in my mind. The fact is that something must be done in order to clarify our entire military establishment. Our national security program now consumes over 60c of each tax dollar. In other words, the security program is slated to receive almost $46 billion out of the $72 budget request of the President for the

If you ever need to move a bulldozer across pavement, here's the way you go about it. Old tires placed in front of the crawler treads keep the cleats off the pavement and provide a soft bed for the machine. The tires are picked up after the dozer has passed and are brought back around in front.

1959 fiscal year. During the 1959 fiscal year the government will collect $38.5 billion in individual income taxes.

This is more than half of all of the taxes collected by the federal government from every source. The military not only consumes all of the individual income taxes, but must dip into other taxes to the tune of an additional $7.3 billion.

The back of the American taxpayer is already at the breaking point; therefore, it is essential that every effort be made to provide better efficiency at less cost in the military. This will not only better serve the defense of this nation, but can also be the source of much needed tax relief for John Q. Public.

Let us all hope partisanship will not prevent a sound and practical evaluation of our military establishment to the end that proper changes be made in keeping with our best interests.

Prairie Wins TIPA First

The Prairie, weekly student newspaper at West Texas State College, won first place in the annual contest sponsored by the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association.

Announcement of the win was made at TIPA's convention at East Texas State College in Commerce. The Prairie competed in a "second division," based on enrollment among the various colleges participating. Dan Mudd, Amarillo senior, edited the issues of The Prairie entered in the contest.

Bob Kelly, Canyon sophomore, was "sweepstakes" winner among the WT delegation attending the convention. He was first place winner in the news-feature photography contest, second place winner in editorial writing, and third place winner in columns.
